7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe at least two institutional best practices

Practice-I Title: Establishment of a Bloomberg Lab. The objectives: a) To give student the rare opportunity to access real-time data from financial markets, thus giving a practical edge to their academic knowledge- thereby boosting their career prospectus. b) To enable faculty elevate conventional classroom teaching by using Bloomberg as pedagogy tool. c) To enable faculty to use Bloomberg for research. The practice The college has established a Bloomberg Lab with 12 Terminals, in the process becoming the first college in the University of Mumbai to offer this facility to undergraduate students. Bloomberg is a U.S. based technology company established in 1981, which delivers accurate business and financial information and which has provided revolutionary financial solutions. Today, Bloomberg has become central nervous system of global finance and a global software platform providing reliable financial information across all market sectors. Bloomberg also has a vertical which opens up the database and knowledge banks for universities. This can help students to access cross-asset, real-time data and historical time series analysis in all financial markets. Students can do real-time studies of capital markets and get the rare opportunity of enhancing their academic knowledge with actual exposure to the practical corporate world. This advantage will also give student added leverage in their career prospects. The college also plans to use the Bloomberg Lab facility for Faculty Development, Research and as a valuable pedagogy tool. The lab is equipped to integrate the industry's data, research, news and analytics into the teaching curriculum. Teachers can use real-time market data to elevate their teaching. Faculty members can also find Bloomberg data very useful in their Research activities. Practice-II Title: establishment of a Research Cell of the University of Mumbai in the college. The objectives: a) To promote and encourage a Research culture among our faculty members. b) To provide opportunities to faculty members to have and develop their research skills and aptitude. The practice Taking into cognizance the growing importance of research and the need to channelize the research aptitude and skills of faculty members in the College, College has launched a Research Cell of Mumbai University in the College in the subject of Commerce and Economics. Further, the Cell has assisted young faculty members in preparation of synopses for research proposals to be submitted to the University where they are taking admissions to the Ph. D Programme. To promote research culture, the College has encouraged faculty members to participate in Research Conclaves The details are : • Prof. Rupa Shah Assistant professor, Department of Commerce participated in Inter-University Research Convention Avishkar in the Teacher's category and won a Gold Medal at University Level. She was also part of University contingent where she secured Silver medal at State Level. • Prof. CA Ameya Tanawade Assistant professor, Department of Accountancy Also Presented his Research Project in Inter University Research Convention Avishkar, where he bagged a Gold Medal at University level in PPG Category and He was also part of University contingent at State Level.

7.3 – Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 – Provide the details of the performance of the institution in one area distinctive to its vision, priority and thrust in not more than 500 words

Institutional Distinctiveness: Continuous efforts to 'enhance the canvas' for our students and provide them with all possible opportunities to broaden the scope and range of their learning. Given the obvious limitations of conventional teaching on one hand and considering the challenges and demand of an ever-shrinking, liberalized and globalized world on the other, we believe that it is imperative to look beyond the curriculum and give students a wide range of programmes and activities which can prepare them for the real world's demands. This year we tried to achieve this in five main ways: a. Establishment of the Bloomberg Lab to give students exposure to real-time conditions in the global financial market. GSCC is the first college in University of Mumbai to not only to have 12 Bloomberg Terminals it is the only college to open this Lab for the use of undergraduate students, at a time when only some Management Institutes have Bloomberg Terminals for their MBA students. As a result, we have students of B.Com-Financial Markets/B.Com-Accountancy Finance/B.Sc.IT and B.Com-Management Studies all availing the services of a trained professional which gives them a real edge over other students when they seek job in India or abroad. b. GSCC entered in to MoU with the Skill Development Vocational Institute of India to introduce add-on courses. We began with a certificate course in E-Taxation: Direct Tax, keeping in mind the students' needs and the relevance of the course. c. Programmes for students' overall development and career placement initiatives were undertaken. They included seminars on Core Java, Python Programming and Digital Transformation a seminar on Animation and Designing and seminar on Banking and Finance. Placement drives were organised to give job-opportunities to students. d. The students of the Self-Finance Department organised 5 different exhibitions on different themes related to their respective courses: viz. Innovations Sustainability Financial Planetarium Monetary Museum Investment Bazar Techn-O-Wiz. Students were directly involved in these exhibitions from the conceptual stage to the execution stage and almost every student had a role to play, with faculty members playing facilitating role. e. The launching of a Research Cell in Commerce Economics recently is a major step in encouraging research skills among faculty and students. In conclusion, we have and will continuously strive to bring newer and more varied schemes within the reach of our students and also our faculty. This will bring them more awareness, greater competence and confidence and give them a really solid base to succeed in whatever they choose to do in future because we helped to 'enhance the canvas' for them.

8. Future Plans of Actions for Next Academic Year

Future Plans of action for Academic Year: 2018-19 • To make solid advancements in our collaborations and linkages with institutes and industries at both national and international levels. • To give added momentum to the activities of the Research Cell and encourage more faculty members to do research. • To expand the activities of the Bloomberg lab and encourage faculty members to use it for pedagogy and research.
