Dear Reader,

Education is the key to the future and progress is possible only when both men and women are equally educated. The goal of education is not to increase the volume of knowledge but to provide opportunities for learners to discover their innate abilities and help them to excel in the areas of their interest. It is with the vision of providing quality education to the young generation that we at Rajasthan Sammelan Education Trust have established educational institutions, career counselling centre, sports academy a music academy, a women's hostel and a boys' hostel to provide a holistic education that will not only train young minds with knowledge and skills but also inculcate humanitarian values like compassion, courage, humility, integrity and trustworthiness in them.

The National Education Policy (NEP 2020) advocates skill-based education and vocational programming. I am happy to state that to facilitate employability of students and making them job-ready, we are in the process of starting a Skill-Tech University. The construction work of the building is in progress. We will also take permission from the education department regarding the courses to be started in the Skill Tech University. The courses have to be prepared taking into consideration the placement opportunities of the students by 2032. For that we have appointed some senior staff as well as consultant. We are also approaching many foreign universities for collaboration

As we look back, we find that the past few months were dotted with many important as well as interesting events along with teaching-learning and examinations. All our institutions successfully conducted Annual Day celebrations with many colourful programmes. During this time a grand Freeship /Scholarship Award Ceremony was also organized in which Freeship/ Scholarship were awarded to the selected students of all institutions from the Endowments Funds of IRB, BKT, Jankidevi Bilasrai Bubna, Chatrabhuj Narsee, Smt. Kailash Kejriwal,
Hon. Secretary, RSET

Dear Reader,

In present day, academic qualifications alone often fall short of industry needs, leading to significant job mismatches. Hence, skill training is critical for youth to bridge the gap between formal education and real-world job requirements. It ensures that young workers possess the exact technical and practical proficiencies required by modern employers. With rapid shifts in artificial intelligence, automation, and digital transformations, the global job market is fundamentally changing. Continuous upskilling prevents youth from becoming obsolete and ensures they remain globally competitive.

Keeping pace with evolving job roles, we at Rajasthani Sammelan Education Trust are in the process of starting a Skill Tech University where education will meet enterprise. The construction of the building for the University is going on at a fast pace. Simultaneously, some senior staff and consultants have been appointed to select the courses that will be relevant in the coming years.

In RSET campus, academic programs are duly complimented by extra-curricular and sports activities to mould our students and motivate them to be the brightest and the best. The month of January witnessed Annual Day celebrations by all the institutions in a grand manner at Pravinchandra D. Shah Sports Academy ground. During this period, a 'Freeship and Scholarship Award Ceremony' was also held in which selected students were awarded freeships and scholarships from the endowment funds given by our benevolent donors. Durgadevi Saraf Institute of Management Studies (DSIMS) and Durgadevi Saraf Global Business School (DSGS) organized the annual cultural event "Sabrang". Republic Day was celebrated in RSET campus on 26th January, 2026 with Shri Ramniranjan Ruia, Member, Managing Committee RSET as the Chief Guest who unfurled the national flag.

Institutions of higher education organized conferences, faculty development program and guest lectures. On 6th and 7th February 2026, Deviprasad Goenka Management College of Media Studies organized the 6th International Conference on "Social Innovation Theories and Praxis: Understanding Perspectives". It was a virtual conference held in association with Tetso College (Nagaland), Paschim Guwahati Mahavidyalaya (Assam) and IARA. Durgadevi Saraf Institute of Management Studies held the Finance Conclave on 21st February, 2026 focused on the theme of Artificial Intelligence in Finance. Distinguished speakers from the industry shared insights on AI-driven transformations in banking and investments.

Students of Ghanshyamdas Saraf College, Ladhidevi Ramdhar Maheshwari Night College of Commerce, Durgadevi Saraf Junior College and Deviprasad Goenka Management College of Media Studies organized 07 days residential camp in villages where the NSS volunteers taught cleanliness, awareness sessions, leadership and skill development activities to the villagers.

Sports is an integral part of life and involves overall development of a student. Keeping this in mind, we are providing coaching in basketball, football and table tennis to our school children and also practice sessions to college students at Pravinchandra D. Shah Sports Academy ground. Expert coaches have been appointed for the coaching of the above mentioned games. In the past few months, students of the institutions of Rajasthani Sammelan Education Trust have brought laurels to the team of Pravinchandra D.

Shah Sports Academy as well as their institutions in football, basketball, table tennis, other sports and martial arts activities.

Today, we are imparting education to more than 16,000 students in our institutions of Rajasthani Sammelan Education Trust. We are sure that the students cared and nurtured by all our institutions will definitely turn into rich human resources for our country as they become matured individuals.

A NEW AGE INSTITUTE FOR NEXT GEN PROFESSIONALS

Archita Saraf Rajpuria, Trustee, RSET

Dear Reader,

It is a moment of profound pride as I pen this message for the latest edition of RSET's quarterly magazine. Looking through these pages, I am struck not just by the talent of our students, but by the remarkable growth our institution has achieved over the years.

Every achievement recorded in this magazine—from sporting victories to academic breakthroughs—is a testament to our collective dedication to quality education. We have grown into a vibrant, diverse community that fosters innovation, empathy, and leadership.

Over the last year, we have undertaken Mentorship program with the Std X students of KGES. This thought was initiated, when we realised that in 2026, a Std X student is not just competing with the child next door. They are growing up with AI tutors, YouTube experts, and a world that changes syllabus every 6 months.

Std X is a pressure point. Students face board exams, stream selection for Std XI & XII, and early career confusion. Parents have opinions, but students need someone closer to their age who's been there for years to give honest, practical guidance without judgement.

1. From Syllabus to Skills

Marks will always matter. They open doors. But doors alone don't build careers. The student who can collaborate, adapt, and think clearly under stress is the one who thrives after the mark sheet is filed away.

As a Trustee, we are trying to shift focus from "completing portions" to "completing the child." This means every Std X student should leave us with 3 things: the ability to learn anything new in 90 days, the confidence to ask for help, and the values to use knowledge responsibly.

2. The Myth of the Perfect Stream

Every year, we are asked the same question, "Science or Commerce for my child?" Our answer has changed over the years. The right stream is not the one with maximum cut-offs. It's the one where the child's aptitude, interest, and the future of work meet. When students choose from clarity, not fear, they stay committed.

3. Teachers as Mentors, Not Just Instructors

Technology can teach Physics. But only a teacher can notice when a bright child goes quiet before boards. Through mentorship every teacher commits to listen, to coach, to spot anxiety early and help the student to sail through the challenges.

4. Parents as Partners

Education fails when school and home pull in opposite directions. If we tell a child "it's okay to try Arts" and home says "only Science is safe," the child learns to hide, not choose.

This year, our teachers had a three-way conversations in the program: teacher (mentor), parent, and student (mentee). The goal is simple - replace "my child must" with "my child can."

5. The end result

- No child should be left confused after Std X about their next step
- No child is left behind because they learn differently
- No child should be left alone with exam stress, career doubt, or self-doubt

Marks will get them into college. Mentorship, skills, and values will get them through life.

That is the education we owe them. The present need is how we raise children who are rooted and ready. That is the work of the school and home together. Marked improvement was seen in the progress chart of the students throughout the academic year, which would not have been possible without the guided approach by the teachers.

I want to thank the KGES faculty and parents for being the pillars of this expansion. To the students, you are the heartbeat of this growth. As we move forward, let us continue to reach for the stars while keeping our values firmly rooted. Let this program serve as a milestone of how far we've come and a roadmap for the heights we have yet to reach.

"Education's purpose is to replace an empty mind with an open one."

Message

We have also celebrated Annual Day, Republic Day, Savitribai Phule Jayanti, National Youth Day, Marathi Bhasha Divas, and awareness initiatives fostered patriotism, social awareness, and cultural appreciation among students.

We are proud to say that our Online Academy continued strengthening digital education infrastructure through LMS updates, online MCQ examinations, software enhancements, and server migration initiatives.

The academy successfully conducted online assessments, technical support services, promotional campaigns, and operational updates to ensure seamless online learning experiences.

At our campus we have two State of Art Hostels (For Boys & Girls). Both hostels continued to provide safe, disciplined, and student-friendly residential environments with strong emphasis on hygiene, maintenance, security, and student well-being.

Infrastructure maintenance, Wi-Fi improvements, health check-up camps, housekeeping upgrades, laundry services, and fire safety systems ensured comfortable living standards for resident students. Special events, festive celebrations, counselling sessions, and recreational support contributed positively towards students' personal growth and community living experiences.

Schools under RSET conducted various academic assessments, science practical, Olympiads, awareness programmes, and examinations while maintaining focus on holistic education.

As we move forward, RSET remains committed to strengthening academic excellence, digital transformation, research, industry collaboration, social responsibility, and holistic student development across all institutions. The achievements of this quarter reaffirm our collective commitment to nurturing future-ready, socially responsible, and ethically grounded individuals.

"Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire."
– William Butler Yeats

The last quarter of the year at RMCC reflected a strong commitment to nurturing students not just academically, but emotionally and socially. Through personalized guidance, structured interventions, and meaningful engagement with parents and institutions, the focus remained on helping every learner move forward with clarity and confidence.

Personalized Career Guidance: Moving Beyond Choices to Clarity

This quarter, RMCC continued to support students across school and college levels through thoughtfully designed career assessments and one-on-one counseling. Each interaction went beyond simply identifying career options—it focused on understanding the student as an individual.

Counselors worked closely with students to explore their strengths, interests, and aspirations, while also addressing uncertainties and external pressures. These conversations helped students make more informed decisions about subject selection, higher education pathways, and long-term goals.

At the same time, working professionals seeking direction in their careers were also supported, reflecting RMCC's inclusive approach to guidance across age groups.

Supporting Global Aspirations: Study Abroad Guidance

With increasing interest in international education in European countries such as Spain, France, Ireland beside USA, UK, Singapore and Australia, RMCC continued to guide students through the journey of studying abroad. Students were introduced to diverse global opportunities and supported in understanding the nuances of international applications.

The guidance extended beyond procedural support—students were encouraged to reflect on their goals, build strong profiles, and present their authentic stories through Statements of Purpose. This approach ensured that students were not only prepared for applications but also for the experience of studying in a global environment. The entire process Overseas Education is student centric choosing the best fit course and University for the student.

Inclusive Education & Remediation: Every Learner Matters

A key highlight of the quarter was the continued focus on inclusive education. The Special Education team worked collaboratively with counselors, teachers, and parents to create supportive learning environments for students with diverse needs.

Individualized interventions were carefully designed to address specific learning challenges, while regular sessions helped students build confidence and improve their academic performance.

Equally important was the strong emphasis on parent engagement. Regular interactions with parents created a shared understanding of each child's needs and ensured consistency between school and home support systems.

Mentorship: Guiding Students through Crucial Academic Years

The mentorship program played a significant role in supporting students during critical academic phases, especially those preparing for board and entrance examinations.

Mentors worked closely with students to help them:

- Manage exam-related stress and anxiety
 - Develop effective study habits and time management skills
 - Stay motivated and focused on their goals
- Beyond academics, the program emphasized long-term development. Students were guided on profile building, skill enhancement, and making productive use of their time, especially during transitions such as post-exam periods. The regular mentor–student interactions created a safe space for students to express concerns, seek clarity, and stay on track.

School Partnerships: Strengthening Support Systems

RMCC's collaboration with partner schools continued to deepen this quarter, ensuring that support was seamlessly integrated into the school environment.

Across campuses, counselors:

- Conducted classroom observations to identify early academic and behavioral concerns
- Provided individual counseling to support students' emotional well-being
- Worked closely with teachers to implement targeted interventions

In pre-primary and primary sections, early intervention strategies helped address developmental and behavioral needs, laying a strong foundation for future learning.

At the secondary level, students received guidance not only for academics but also for managing stress, building confidence, and preparing for important examinations. Parent interactions remained a cornerstone of this work, fostering a collaborative approach to student development.

Workshops & Career Readiness: Preparing for the Future

This quarter saw impactful group sessions and workshops designed to prepare students for life beyond the classroom.

Through interactive sessions, students were encouraged to:

- Reflect on their personal strengths and career identity
- Build essential life skills such as communication, teamwork, and problem-solving
- Understand academic and professional pathways available to them

College students, in particular, benefited from sessions on professional readiness, including building a strong digital presence, preparing for interviews, and developing workplace communication skills.

Younger students were introduced to career awareness at an early stage, helping them connect their interests with future possibilities and make more informed academic choices. Career assessment and counseling was done for Grade 8 students of Savitridevi Hariram Agarwal International School.

institutional collaborations. These initiatives created awareness about the importance of early career planning and the availability of structured guidance. Counseling sessions conducted across platforms ensured that students and parents had access to support when they needed it, making guidance more accessible and continuous.

is closely supported by emotional well-being, self-awareness, and future readiness. By combining personalized counseling, structured programs, and strong school partnerships, RMCC continues to empower students to move forward with confidence, purpose, and clarity in an ever-evolving world.

Mess services operated smoothly without any interruptions. Students expressed satisfaction with the improved variety and quality of meals provided. The festival of Holi was celebrated with great enthusiasm by the students. A special brunch was organized, which enhanced the festive spirit and created an enjoyable experience for all residents.

Growth of E-Learning Platforms

Modern e-learning platforms have become central to global education systems. They offer diverse courses, peer interactions, and certification options recognized by employers. For universities, integrating e-learning platforms for university students ensures seamless communication and academic support. Their growth marks a turning point in online education trends worldwide.

Challenges of Online Education

Despite its advantages, online education faces challenges such as limited hands-on learning, screen fatigue, and unequal access to reliable internet. Addressing these issues is essential for the sustained growth of distance education. Universities must prioritise student engagement and develop tools that balance technology with personalized support.

Why Mumbai Students CAN CHAT All Day but Struggle to Communicate in Real Life

By a Teacher Who Sees It Every Day

"Always Online, Yet Silent in Class"

Riya (name changed), a second-year undergraduate student at a reputed college in Mumbai, is one of the most active participants in her class WhatsApp group. She responds instantly to messages, shares memes, participates in debates, and even helps peers with notes—all through her phone. Her digital presence is vibrant, confident, and articulate. However, in the physical classroom, Riya presents a stark contrast.

When asked to speak during presentations or participate in discussions, she avoids eye contact, hesitates, and often limits herself to one-word answers. During a recent group activity, despite having strong ideas (later shared extensively on the group chat), she struggled to express them verbally. Her body language reflected discomfort—fidgeting hands, lowered gaze, and minimal engagement.

Intrigued by this disconnect, I spoke to her after class. Riya admitted, "Ma'am, I feel more confident typing. I can think, edit, and then send. But when I have to speak, I get nervous... what if I say something wrong?"

Riya is not an exception—she represents a growing pattern among Mumbai students. These learners are constantly connected, communicating effortlessly through texts, voice notes, and emojis. Yet, when placed in real-life communicative situations—presentations, interviews, or even basic classroom discussions—they exhibit hesitation, anxiety, and lack of fluency.

This paradox raises an important question for educators:

Are we witnessing a generation that is digitally expressive but orally inhibited?

As a teacher observing this trend daily, it becomes evident that while technology has enhanced the quantity of communication, it may be simultaneously weakening the quality of face-to-face interaction. The classroom, therefore, is no longer just a space for knowledge transmission—it has become a critical site for rebuilding fundamental communication skills that digital environments may not fully nurture.

Walk into any classroom in Mumbai today, and you will notice something interesting. Students are not silent. In fact, they are constantly communicating—on WhatsApp, Instagram, Snapchat, and everywhere else. But the moment you ask them to stand up and speak for even two minutes, something changes. Suddenly, there is hesitation. Words disappear. Confidence drops.

This is not just a classroom observation. A recent article in Time Magazine highlights that young people today are increasingly struggling with real-life communication despite being more digitally connected than ever.

As a teacher, I see this gap every single day.

Today's students are socially active, but mostly on screens. They can send voice notes, react with emojis, and maintain multiple chats at once. But face-to-face interaction feels like pressure. In classroom discussions, only a few students speak while the rest prefer to stay quiet. Presentations often become reading sessions rather than conversations. Even in viva exams, many students struggle to express simple ideas clearly. It is not that they lack knowledge. They lack practice in expressing it. There are several reasons behind this shift.

First, excessive screen time has reduced real-world interaction. Conversations today are typed, edited, and sent—not spoken spontaneously. Second, the pandemic played a major role. Students got used to online classes where cameras were off and microphones muted. Participation became optional, and silence became comfortable. Third, over-dependence on technology, including AI tools, is affecting independent thinking. Students can produce well-written assignments, but when asked to explain the same ideas verbally, they struggle. Communication is not just another academic skill. It is a life skill.

A student who cannot express his/her ideas will struggle in:

- Job interviews
- Group discussions
- Workplace communication
- Leadership roles

No matter how talented they are, if they cannot communicate, their growth becomes limited.

The solution is not to blame students or ban technology. The solution is to create more opportunities for real communication inside the classroom.

1. Encourage Regular Speaking

Students should speak in class every day, even if it is for a minute. Asking simple questions and inviting opinions helps build confidence gradually.

2. Normalise Imperfection

Many students hesitate because they fear making mistakes. Teachers must create an environment where speaking imperfectly is acceptable.

3. Use Interactive Methods

Activities like role plays, group discussions, and mock interviews make communication more engaging and less intimidating.

4. Focus on Small Wins

Even small improvements—like speaking one complete sentence confidently—should be appreciated. Confidence grows step by step.

5. Reduce Screen Dependence in Class

Creating short “no phone” periods encourages students to interact with each other directly. Our students are not antisocial. They are simply not used to real-world communication.

Interestingly, the same students who hesitate in class can confidently bargain in a market, argue during a cricket match, or chat endlessly with friends. This shows that the ability to communicate exists—it just needs direction and practice.

As teachers, our role is to bring that ability into the classroom.

Because at the end of the day, education is not just about what students know. It is about how well they can express what they know. And that is a skill they will carry for life.

My journey at DGMC has been one of the most unforgettable and transformative phase of my life. Beyond academics, it was the experiences that truly shaped me. Managing annual day celebrations, unexpectedly hosting events, and representing the institution in inter collegiate competitions gave me confidence, leadership, and lifelong memories.

Each moment pushed me out of my comfort zone and helped me grow into a stronger individual. The constant support of our faculty, staff, classmates, and the encouragement of our Principal ma'am made this journey even more meaningful. I was guided when I made mistakes and rewarded when I truly deserved it, even being honoured as the Best Student of the Year, which remains a proud lifetime milestone. To me, my time at Ramniwas Bajaj feels less like a chapter and more like the whole preface to who I am today. It was where I first learned that asking questions was just as important as knowing answers. Those classrooms, often filled with mindful lessons, engaging debates, and of course, those mischievous murmurs, quietly laid the foundation of my academics as well as my personality. The unwavering support of the teachers, and the values instilled within those classroom walls played a significant role in shaping me.

Whether it was the nervous excitement before a class test or the pride of finishing first in the race at the sports day, my school made learning feel like an adventure and the extra curriculas kept school life engaging and insightful. I would also like to add how being the Head Girl of the school is still not only a brag for me but also a proof of how RBHS helped me scale in necessary skills along with studies. Though I no longer wear the school uniform, a part of me still walks those corridors, carrying lessons that go far beyond textbooks. All the guidance and precious memories of the school stand out as essential parts of a journey I'm deeply grateful for.

The course had a good setup with different ways to test us, like writing assignments and presentations. It was challenging but interesting. Working together in tutorials was great for discussing ideas and making connections with others helped balance academic work and other activities. My decision to take Finance as Specialization was the right one. Being part of FINANCIA Conclave has provided me with a myriad of new & lifetime experiences.

Sabrang, Versus, cultural days/ events & Placement Activities are among other events which changed the outlook towards life. Also, through participating in CSR activities and social events helped me develop my personality widely.

The support from my classmates and dedicated faculty members at DSIMS made my experience unforgettable and valuable. I'm proud to be associated with DSIMS, which provides excellent preparation for the journey ahead. Always a DSIMS enthusiast! I am very grateful to this prestigious institute for giving me an opportunity to become a successful professional.

Our Gratitude to the Large Donors of Rajasthani Sammelan Education Trust

Rajasthani Sammelan Education Trust today is a reputed name in the field of education with multiple educational institutions offering education from Nursery to post graduate studies in management and media studies. Approximately 16,000 students study across various schools and colleges located in the state-of-the-art RSET campus in Malad (Mumbai).

This transformation and growth of RSET has been brought about by some of the visionaries who were associated with the Trust since 1948 and had the far sightedness to empower the community through education. What started as a single school for the girl child way back in 1950's today has metamorphosed to multiple educational institutions and students.

RSET owes its gratitude to the benevolence of its Large Donor families who had the vision to invest for the cause of education way back in the early years and have continued to do it over the years, knowing fully well that investment in knowledge pays the best interest. And rightly so. From time to time all our Large Donor families who have been associated with RSET have seen their investment in education come to fruition and we are reaping the fruits of their vision through the various institutes and the infrastructural facilities that have been built at RSET some of which have been named as per the desire of our esteemed Donors and membership as per RSET rules were given as per the membership rules prevailing at that time.

All our Donor Trustees, Office Bearers and Managing Committee Members bring with them an extensive experience and knowledge of running their successful enterprises. It is largely due to their efforts, vision and commitment that RSET has grown in the size and stature. Our gratitude to all our Members for joining with us in our educational endeavours.

Thank you Donors

Our family of donors include illustrious business families, individuals, corporate partners, foundations and all those people who are committed to our philosophy of providing "Quality Education for All" and have been coming forward with their contribution from time to time to create an institution of educational excellence.

Through these columns, we thank and acknowledge the support of our donors for their generous contribution over the years. Your support and contribution plays an important role in helping Rajasthani Sammelan to achieve its mission of developing a community dedicated to achieving national and international levels of excellence in various fields of education.

Your generosity has significantly contributed and helped the students in various areas. Every donation that you make impacts the life of our students in some way or the other. Your contribution has helped us build various institutes of excellence with the best infrastructure that include state of the art computer labs, knowledge resource centre, communication centre, health centre, educational outlet, sports facilities and scholarships instituted for meritorious students. All our institutes have benefitted immensely from your support.

Undoubtedly, you as our esteemed donors have made Rajasthani Sammelan stand tall in stature and have helped it grow from time to time. Like you, there have been many others whose contribution to Rajasthani Sammelan way back in the early 1950s has been significant and notable. And we gratefully acknowledge their noteworthy contribution in setting up the edifice of this great institution.

We gratefully acknowledge the contribution made by Late Shri Kudilalji Seksaria who donated the land on which the current structure of Rajasthani Sammelan stands. This contribution cannot be valued in terms of money, and it would only undermine his contribution if we were to measure this in monetary terms.

At the same time, had it not been for the significant contribution of Rs. 50,000/- by Shri Brijmohan Ruia (Brijmohan Laxminarayan Ruia Charity Trust) way back around the year 1950, the landmark Sarvodaya Balika Vidyalaya would not have come up. A small dream way back in early 1950s has today paved the way for a number of institutions under the banner of Rajasthani Sammelan. As they say, "It all begins with a Dream".

We are proud to have you all as an integral part of the positive impact and an enduring legacy that we are creating at Rajasthani Sammelan. May your benevolence continue to bring about the change we wish to see in our educational system. We stand committed to spread our wings and fly higher. In this journey of growth, we seek your continued support.

We constantly endeavour to maintain accuracy in the list of donors and we thank you for the feedback in case of any discrepancy that has been noted. Should there be any errors or omissions in this list, we urge you to contact our Donations Officer on rs@rajasthani.org.in
