ABSTRACT

For construction of strong building what is required is solid foundation. Same is situation nation building. For any country to be called itself as developed solid foundation in the form of solind 0 education for growth of the society is required. Educational institutions though are not for profit but they receive grant from government treasury and donations from society. They answerable to society as well as government about kind of education they provide to the end users i.e. nothing but students. In this era of globalization where every entity tries to maintain its standard and try to make impact on global map, educational institutions cannot remain behind. To maintain standard of education, continuous monitoring is required. Such external monitoring or examination is called academic audit which is need of an hour. But for better governance even such academic reports should be made public. With such transparent attitude on part of educational institution, need of society from institution and vice-versa will be cleared and only eligible people get job and it will increase employability.
