Letter of Recommendation

To Whomsoever It May Concern

I am glad to introduce Ms. Sakhi Bhatt one of our students of our college. I have lectured her for the subjects of Public Relations, Mass Media Research, Contemporary Issues, for all three years of her Bachelor's in Mass Media. Sakhi is an intelligent student, with good observational & analytical skills. Having an inquisitive mind, she constantly quests for knowledge and is keen to acquire an understanding of issues that interest her.

From what I've seen, Sakhi shares a good camaraderie with all her batch mates. Her warm nature make her likable to her classmates and teachers. She actively participates when it comes to group discussions or group projects and is a collaborative team member.

Sakhi's capabilities were not only restricted to academics, but they covered co-curricular activities as well. She has also proactively contributed in the extra-curricular activities of the college and has even been the Contingent Leader for various intercollegiate festivals.

Ever since she commenced her Bachelor's studies in the field of mass media, her desire to pursue her Master's degree from a reputed institute has persisted. According to me, she possesses all the required qualities and aptitude for a robust postgraduate degree programme.

I wish her success for her future endeavours.

Sincerely,

Sub: Recommendation Letter for Radha Puranik

Programme: Masters in 'Totalitarianism & Transition'

Radha Puranik had enrolled in Bachelor of Mass Media (BMM) programme in June 2018 in our college and she is currently studying in her Third & Final Year of the programme. I have taught her the following subjects in the course of her studies:

1. Fundamentals of Mass Communication
2. Introduction to Media Studies
3. Organizational Behaviour
4. Journalism & Public Opinion

As the programme coordinator of BMM programme, I have found Radha Puranik to be open-minded, forthcoming & assertive during my interactions with her in class, as well as outside the class. She is a socially conscientious person who puts across her views and opinions honestly, even at times going against popularly-held beliefs of those around her, and yet her team-work and team-spirit is well-known and well-appreciated by her classmates and teachers.

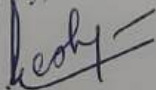

Her presence is quite perceptible as she stands out amongst a group of people through her talks and discussions. She is a good networker and has several friends amongst her batch mates from within the different programmes that our institute offers. This has allowed her to strengthen her own knowledge and understanding across a wide range of media & communication platforms such as films, photography, theatre, music and literature.

She is ambitious and hardworking, possessing excellent analytical skills which are reflected in the projects and assignments that she has made. One specific assignment that comes to my mind is her piece on "Colonial Hangover in India", which did impress me greatly when I read it.

She has opted for "Journalism" as her specialization in her Final Year of the programme, which is an apt choice for her, given her nature, personality and interests. She now wishes to pursue her Masters in "Totalitarianism & Transition", which is a well-suited programme for her, given her interests in global socio-political happenings in the contemporary world, specifically in the post-totalitarian countries of Europe.

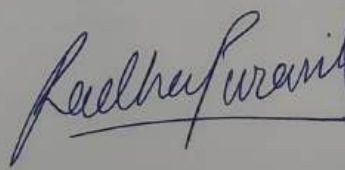

I am confident that Radha will pursue this research with the same relentless energy with which she does her academic assignments. I consider her among one of the brightest students in her batch as evidenced from her grades. She certainly presents herself as a strong candidate for your programme at Erasmus Mundus. I will be watching her professional progress with interest and I wish her all the best for her career prospects.

Sincerely,

Saurabh Deshpande

To Whomsoever It May Concern

I am glad to introduce Ms. Namrata Dalmia one of our students of our college. I have lectured her for all three years of her Bachelor's in Mass Media.

Namrata represents a rare class of students, ones who have an unstated desire to prove themselves. Her analytical and observational skills give her an edge over most students. She is intelligent and diligent, blessed with an inquisitive mind. She is on a constant quest for knowledge and tries to gather it from different sources, be it after class hours with professors or at the library.

From what I've seen, Namrata shares a good camaraderie with all her batch mates. Her warm and jovial nature make her likable to students and teachers alike. She never refrains from taking an initiative when it comes to group discussions or group projects and is always ready to take responsibility; qualities, which makes her a good leader. She performs well even within the role of a team member. Her team skills are comparable to her leadership skills making her a valued team associate.

Namrata's capabilities were not only restricted to academics, but they covered co-curricular activities as well. She has actively participated in various college events during the annual festival as well as volunteered for the same.

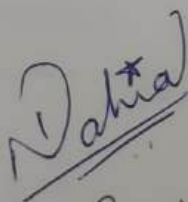

I wish her success for her future endeavours.

Sincerely,

TO WHOMSOEVER IT MAY CONCERN

It is with pride and immense pleasure that I am writing this letter for Master. Ayush Ganesh Dugar who aspires to join your prestigious University for further studies. As a Faculty of Ghanshyamdas Saraf College of Commerce, I am delighted to recommend to you a sincere and dedicated student of our college. I have personally interfaced with him on a regular basis and I have come to a clear understanding of his academic responsibilities. He is highly interactive in the class and probed deep into his subjects and conscientiously tried to learn everything down to its last detail. He has thus been able to utilise his class time in a productive and determined manner and his penetrating insights demonstrate a genuine application of the knowledge that he is acquiring.

Ayush effectively tackles all his subjects with exemplary skills and has impressed me deeply with his professional performances. I taught him and he has performed exceedingly well in both the theory and practical exams. His sincere and hard work ethic makes him surpass many of his peers. His eagerness to take up challenges itself makes him an achiever.

Apart from his curriculum, he also enrolled himself for various projects and internships outside the curriculum. He also successfully worked for 1 year in Chouhan Builders India Housing Development Pvt Ltd and Financial Analyst Intern for 3 months in Equity lever World Pvt Ltd. He took part in various quiz Competitions and other various competitions organised by our college.

His remarkable performances consistently reflected a level of insightfulness and also the potential that was truly distinctive and makes his ambitions even more evident. I am confident that he has all the credentials that is demanded of him to go further with his study for which I pray for you to accept his application to your University.

Sincerely,

I am pleased to recommend Ms Tanya Shrishrimal for admission to MBA program of your esteemed university mainly due to the merits she has demonstrated as a student of Bachelors of Management Studies (BMS) of this institution. She had secured excellent grades in all the semesters. I have taught her Principles of Marketing in her 3rd semester and I am delighted by her perpetual quest of knowledge in the topic of study and in learning as a whole. She is a disciplined, sincere and hardworking student possessing a very high level of perseverance and potency.

I have observed that Tanya's courteous behaviour in the institution together with his unique versatility and leadership quality earned her a distinct reputation as a student with initiative and drive, among fellow students and the teaching staff. She took active part in inter college festival of our College 'MAUJ' and she managed this without affecting his academic performance which has been quite good.
