"New ideas for innovation grow out of the minds of each new generation. Having an institution of higher learning that can help young people put those ideas into action is critical." – Jay Samit

The world changes with the speed of light. Developing a personal brand might make you more approachable. People prefer connecting and doing business with real individuals than nameless organizations. Building a personal brand that emphasizes your distinct personality, passions, and eccentricities will help you establish enduring connections with your audience.

With changes and advancement taking place all around the world, you need to keep abreast with the latest developments and it is imperative for students to sharpen their oratory, conceptual & critical thinking skills.

Keeping the above in mind, the BMS Department of Ghanshyamdas Saraf College of Commerce this year conducted Innovision 3.0 on 29th January 2024 in Durgadevi Saraf Auditorium from 9:00am to 1:00 pm. The activity was divided into two mega events namely:
