RBHS

Welcoming Summer with Joy and Reflection

As April draws to a close, our classrooms have quieted down after the hustle and bustle of final examinations. Our students have shown resilience and dedication, and we are proud of their efforts and achievements.

Now, it's time for a well-deserved break! The summer vacation brings—a perfect opportunity for students to relax, unwind, and step away from their daily routines. While rest is essential, we also encourage our learners to stay gently connected to their academic journey through the thoughtfully prepared Summer Revision Pack. This will help reinforce key concepts while allowing children the freedom to explore new interests and hobbies.

Summer is a season of discovery—whether it's reading under the shade of a tree, helping in the kitchen, traveling with family, or simply observing nature. Let's make this break a beautiful blend of learning, laughter, and leisure.

Wishing all our families a safe, restful, and enriching summer vacation!

Inspiring leadership, empowering futures – Thoughts from our Trustee

"Success is a journey of consistent efforts, discipline, and not giving up when the going gets hard."

MS FLORINA FERNANDES

From the Principal's Desk: Guiding us with wisdom and vision.

Let's Bond during the Vacations!

Summer vacations always take me back to my childhood where we spent an entire summer month on a quaint island in Goa-my hometown. The comforts were nil, the luxuries unheard of and the discomforts in plenty. Yet this never obstructed our enjoyment. The key reason was that the entire family was together under one roof 24 X 7. And it is true – double the people, double the fun. The sweltering summer heat, the evening insects, the tanned skin, the unavailability of steady electricity was never a deterrent to fun, rather proved to be an excitement of adventures. Despite the bumpy bus rides to Goa with all its discomforts, we looked forward to spending the vacations out in nature.

It makes me wonder why vacations are no longer about bonding with family and more about luxuries. Amidst the pace of modern life, where school schedules, work deadlines, and digital distractions often dominate our days, vacations offer a precious pause. They are more than just breaks from routine—they are invitations to reconnect, recharge, and rediscover one another.

Family bonding during vacations doesn't require grand plans or exotic travel. Sometimes, the most meaningful moments are found in everyday things.

Children especially thrive on this attention and togetherness. So this summer, wherever we are, let us bond again and share simple joys – maybe have a candlelight meal one day, go out for a drama, have board game competitions, take a long drive to an unplanned destination, pack a meal and have it in the open (beach, national park) or just drive to a beach to watch the sunrise/sunset.

Wishing you all a restful, joyful, and love-filled vacation!

DECODE THE FUTURE OF EDUCATION

TRIGON 2025

An Education Fair by RSET

On April 26 and 27, 2025, the RSET Campus in Malad West transformed into a vibrant hub of learning, creativity, and future-ready innovation with TRIGON 25—a dynamic Education Fair that united students, educators, industry experts, and creative professionals to explore the evolving landscape of education.

The event was graciously inaugurated by renowned theatre and television actress Ms. Aparna Mehta of the Saas Bhi Kabhi Bahu Thi fame, whose magnetic personality and warm presence set a spirited tone for two days filled with inspiration and discovery. She was astonished to see the wide array of opportunities available to students—from AI and career planning to creative and wellness platforms. In her address, she encouraged students to dream fearlessly, explore beyond textbooks, and embrace every learning opportunity with confidence and curiosity. The RBHS stall emerged as a vibrant center of engagement and creativity, drawing attention with its display of the Sampada book—a rich collection that highlighted the culinary flair and imaginative spirit of its students. Adding an interactive edge, the stall featured FIM's mental math challenges and Kahoot quizzes across subjects like English, EVS, Hindi, and Marathi, which kept visitors actively involved and learning through play. It was a perfect blend of knowledge, creativity, and fun—capturing the very essence of TRIGON 25.

Amidst expert sessions and interactive workshops, the RSET community infused the event with vibrant energy and artistic flair. Talented RBHS students lit up the stage with live singing performances, captivating the audience and adding a delightful cultural rhythm that enriched the overall experience of TRIGON 25. Adding further depth to the workshops, our Principal Ms Florina Fernandes led an insightful session titled "The Reluctant Writer", encouraging students to overcome creative blocks and embrace the writing process with confidence.

With lively, interactive stalls hosted by each institution of RSET, along with thought-provoking workshops, seminars, and panel discussions, TRIGON 25 truly succeeded in bridging the gap between today's educational practices and tomorrow's possibilities. The event inspired students to dream big, equipped them with future-ready skills, and opened doors to creativity, wellness, and meaningful real-world connections. It was a memorable experience that left a lasting impact on all who attended.

A big shout-out to the entire RBHS and RSET staff whose dedication, planning, and teamwork made this event a resounding success. Here's to many more such enriching collaborations in the future!

Mimicking real-life tasks in a safe, playful setting, this activity not only sparked joy but also supported the development of fine motor skills. As little hands pinched and pegged, they built the finger strength and coordination essential for writing, self-care, and everyday independence. A simple task with powerful benefits!
